RE: WT Docket No. 11-65

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing today to support AT&T's proposed merger with T-Mobile USA.

The Indiana Chamber of Commerce represents nearly 5,000 businesses that employ approximately 800,000 Hoosiers. Access to faster, more robust and more reliable wireless communications infrastructure is increasingly critical to the success of both large and small businesses across our state. Business-to-business transactions occur seamlessly in the Internet "cloud." Small businesses can extend their markets across the country and even the world through engaging web sites.

The last few years have brought a sea of change in the commercial marketplace, as smartphones and their many applications change the way many businesses connect with their customers. For example, retail customers quickly check prices online while shopping and respond to coupons delivered to their phones the minute they walk into a retail outlet. Restaurants can offer up-to-the minute nutritional information delivered via text as diners sit at the table or queue to order food. Bank customers can make a deposit by simply emailing a photo of an endorsed check.

The AT&T/T-Mobile announcement is great news for Indiana's high-tech infrastructure. Expanding the next generation of wireless data services to virtually everyone in the state will bridge the divide between businesses in urban and rural areas. It will be a much-needed boost for businesses that rely on this infrastructure to create new jobs.

The businesses of Indiana will face a better future with the expansion of this new technology, and that is why we support this acquisition. Thank you for your consideration of our views.

Sincerely,

Kevin M. Brinegar
President
